Intramural-Recreational Sports

Job Description: Tennis Instructor

The University of Virginia Intramural-Recreational Sports Department is looking for Tennis Instructors to work for our Tennis Instructional Program this spring. Lessons are held at Snyder Tennis Center on UVA’s Grounds. Instructors will be leading up to six participants during lessons. Must have excellent communication skills, ability to modify movements for participant safety, and exemplary customer service skills. Applicants should have experience playing tennis, while previous instructional experience is preferred. Employees must adhere to and enforce the University and Departmental Policies, and be able to assist in the execution of Emergency Action Procedures.

Team Members Responsibility:

- Lead and instruct a variety of tennis lessons in a safe and effective manner for our University faculty, staff, students, and members. Lessons may involve youth or adult participants.
- Instructors are responsible for fully engaging participants in vibrant activities that promote a lifetime interest in tennis; correctly instructing and teaching lessons designed for participant enjoyment and safety; effectively communicating; and providing exemplary customer service.
- Adhere to and enforce University/Departmental Policies.
- Assist in the execution of Emergency Action Procedures.
- Lessons will mostly occur outdoors at the Snyder Tennis Center.

Requirements/Qualifications:

- Some experience leading group tennis lessons and/or competitive tennis playing experience at the high school or collegiate level.
- Attend regularly scheduled staff meetings and in-service sessions.
- Must have excellent communication skills, ability to modify movements for participant safety, and exemplary customer service skills.

Expressed Benefits:

- Compensation Range: $11.00/hr - $18/hr
- Flexible scheduling
